

The Coziest Winter Getaways Within 3 Hours of SF

Cue the fireplace and soaking tub

By ALLISON MCCARTHY | JAN. 6, 2017

OK, so it's no Chicago freeze, but temperatures are dropping and the bone-chilling feel from the rain is real. Your first instinct might be to hop a plane to the nearest tropical destination. But don't bust out the flip-flops just yet: These charming escapes—all within a few hours of the city—just might make a wet winter believer out of you.

THE INN ABOVE TIDE (30 MINUTES FROM SF)

Gaze across the bay from your waterfront room while you cozy up to the fireplace here with a good book or a bottle of wine for two. The Inn Above Tide is offering seasonal fireplace bundles that include hot apple cider, comfy blankets for cuddling up and cinnamon sticks or pinecones for scented fires.
