

THE INN ABOVE TIDE

Luxurious guest rooms and suites face the bay towards San Francisco, California. A short jaunt down El Portal from the main street of Bridgeway, the name implies just how close the ocean laps beneath the balcony. The real beauty of this Inn is the serene view out the terrace window. A glass partition and two teak chairs with a table are all that separate you from Pacific waters.

Binoculars are provided to encourage peering out to sea. From a sundrenched deck it is easy to gaze across the miles and see Fisherman's Wharf, Alcatraz, Oakland and Angel Island. Sausalito is recognized in reality and song as a summer retreat. In-room breakfast is served at the Inn, but coffee shops, superb restaurants with names like The Trident, Angelino Restaurant and Poggio are close by on the long boardwalk making this the ideal setting for a carefree May to October existence.
